

WEBSITE and CRM FAQs FOR CONSUMERS:

1. What is the new regulation all about?

The new regulation is an amendment to the existing regulations of NTO which was implemented in 2019. The amended regulations continue to give the consumer the freedom to subscribe and pay only for the channels or channel packs that they want to watch.

2. How will the consumer be charged by the service provider in the new regime?

The service provider is entitled to charge the consumers for the following and also provide a detailed bill having the following breakup:

- Fixed operating charges towards network capacity (Network Capacity Fees) that the service provider must declare upfront
- MRPs (exclusive of applicable taxes) for the pay channel packs and a-la-carte channels opted by the consumers
- All applicable taxes

For example, a consumer has opted for Disney Star's Star Value Pack Hindi with an MRP of Rs 54 (exclusive of applicable taxes) through the service provider. The service provider has declared a Network Capacity Fee of Rs 130. In this instance, the consumer's bill shall be calculated as Rs 130 + Rs 54 = Rs 184 + taxes.

3. What do channel Bouquet/pack of Channels and A-la-carte Channels mean?

A channel bouquet/pack is a combination of channels that are offered together at one price. This helps the consumers to conveniently choose their favorite Bouquet/pack of channels that cater to the diverse needs of a household. Such channel packs can be made available by both broadcasters and the channel service providers.

Disney Star has created various language-based channel packs to provide viewers with their favorite content like Drama, Movies, Sports, Kids entertainment and Knowledge in one place. To know more about various Disney Star channel packs please visit <https://www.disneystar.com/channel-pricing>

The consumer also has the option to individually select each channel that they wish to subscribe. Such selection of channels on individual basis is referred to as A-la-carte.

4. Can service providers create their own channel pack?

Yes, the service providers can create their own pack by combining various channel packs and/or a-la-carte channels offered by various broadcasters. Please contact your service provider or visit your service provider's website for further details on channel packs offered by your service provider.

5. Are the MRPs declared on Disney Star's website inclusive of taxes?

No. The prices are excluding applicable taxes.

6. Why are some service providers charging different prices for Disney Star Channels (A-la-carte or Channel packs)?

The service provider cannot charge the consumer higher than the declared MRPs (exclusive of applicable taxes) for Disney Star's channels and packs. For details about various Disney Star channels and pack prices, please visit <https://www.disneystar.com/channel-pricing>.

Besides, service provider is obligated to provide a detailed bill to the consumers including the break up of all the charges:

- a) Fixed operating charges towards network capacity fee
- b) MRPs (exclusive of applicable taxes) for the pay channel packs and a-la-carte channels opted by the consumers

c) Applicable taxes

7. How are High Definition (HD) channels different from Standard Definition (SD) channels and why the rates are different?

HD channels provide a superior picture and sound quality. Picture resolution is 5 times sharper along with a digital Dolby sound thereby giving theatre or stadium like experience to the viewer. Hence in view of enhanced viewing experience provided by HD channels, the rates differ from SD channels.

To enjoy HD Channels, you need to subscribe to HD channels and have a HD enabled TV as well as a HD Set Top Box.

Disney Star offers more than 30 HD channels. To know more about our HD channels and packs please visit <https://www.disneystar.com/channel-pricing>

8. Can I avail all Disney Star Channels in one single channel pack?
